Memorial Services in Honor of Bishop Batterton, at the Christian Church, Sunday.

The Christian church was filled from rostrum to the entrance doors Sunday afternoon with an audience that listened with rapt attention to a masterful address delivered by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the church.

The occasion was a memorial service in honor of Bishop Batterton, a Bourbon county boy, whose brave young life went out in an overseas hospital on July 20, after a futile struggle for life, after having been wounded in the stomach in battle on July 19.

The service was opened at four o'clock Sunday afternoon with a scripture reading by Rev. R. C. Goldsmith, pastor of the Paris Baptist church, followed by a patriotic song by the Community Chorus. Rev. Goldsmith offered the invocation, which was followed by a solo rendered by Mr. A. L. Boatright, choir director of the Christian church. Then followed the delivery by Rev. Ellis of a masterly eulogy on the life and death of Bishop Batterton. The address is printed in full. Rev. Ellis' address was followed by a patriotic song by the Community Chorus. An impressive feature of the service was the sounding of "taps" by Earl Swearingen, representing the Boy Scouts, a military tribute to the young man who had made the supreme sacrifice for his country. The doxology by Rev. Taylor Sharrard closed the program.

Bishop Batterton

Rev. Ellis' address was a masterpiece of word-painting and as an oratorical effort, surpassed anything Paris people have heard in years. He paid a masterly tribute to the young man who had given his life as the supreme sacrifice for his country.

Rev. Ellis' address was in every respect a fine one, coming from a man who knows what to say, how to say it and who can always be depended on to convey a message to his auditors in a most convincing manner. The address in full follows:

"Bishop Batterton is dead, and I trust I hear the venomous serpents of Prussianism hissing with joy. But boast not, O thou demon of the pit! If Bishop Batterton is dead, the principles which he advocated still live. He may be buried in No Man's Land with only a marker to point out his resting place, but we will keep his grave open and let down our sacred cause until, touching his bones, it shall spring up with ten fold power, and go forth for the conquest of the world.

"Taking it all in all, I think it is the most pathetic death in all the history of Bourbon county, because he is the first Bourbon county boy to make the supreme sacrifice. And every citizen of Bourbon county for whose protection Bishop Batterton was fighting when he gave up his life, should petition the Throne of Grace for a blessing on the mother and father who gave this young hero to the Nation that we love and to the defense of the flag that to us is dearer than life itself. We should thank God for his courage, for his heroism, for his Christian manhood that dared to stand for his convictions, even at the point of peril and danger, and at last poured out his blood for the protection of his country's rights.

"I think that the circumstances of this occasion make it permissible for me to say some things that are personal to the life and character of our young hero. He was born in Bourbon county, June 24, 1897, having been under age when he volunteered for service. Just before being sent overseas he was permitted to visit his home and his beloved parents for the last time, little knowing what his fate would be. He was in the forefront with the American sharpshooters when the German vandals and Prussian demons were making what they thought was their final dash for Paris, France. But it was the heroism of Bishop Batterton and those who fought side by side with him that saved the day for the Allies by turning the tide of battle and starting that series of successes that have continued unbroken, until to-day the German army on the Western front is retreating in disorder. And may our good and great God grant that the victories here begun may never end until the German Kaiser, that living embodiment of the Satanic majesty, and all his horde of vandals and murderers of women and children may be completely wiped from the face of God's earth and the nations shall again be at peace.

"Thank God the armies of civilization are already beginning to see the dawn of a new day breaking in the distance because of the sacrifice

NEW PHASE TO LABOR QUESTION IN BOURBON.

IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

Several very interesting letters from soldiers were unavoidably crowded over to our Friday's issue.

Lieut. John Harris Clay, who is with a Canadian regiment on the American-Canadian border, is a guest of his mother, Mrs. C. M. Clay, at "Auvergne," near Paris. Lieut. Clay is here on a three-weeks' furlough.

Mr. Henry C. Curtis, of Paris, received a postcard Sunday from his son, Mr. Emmett Curtis, who recently volunteered in Uncle Sam's service. The card read:

"Etowah, Tenn.
"Still riding; having fine time; no sleep yet. We're on our way to a Georgia camp. Don't know where, but doesn't make much difference."

Mr. W. B. Tinsley, formerly connected with the Paris Gas & Electric Co., has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the army service, and is now at Governor's Island, New York, awaiting transportation overseas. Mr. Tinsley writes Paris friends that while he is ready and willing to go, old Kentucky looks good to him—but of course, "there's a reason."

Joseph Letcher, formerly on the staff of the Lexington Leader and the Cincinnati Enquirer, was a visitor in Paris this week. Mr. Letcher came here to attend the funeral and burial of his half-brother, Mr. Wm. Mallory, who was drowned in Hous-ton Creek recently. Mr. Letcher is in the naval service, stationed at Newport News, Va., as a member of the marines.

Two Paris boys, former students at the College of Electrical and Mechanical Engineering at the State University, Stuart Wallingford and Landen Templin, are at home on a furlough from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill. They have been transferred from the Great Lakes station to Camp Buell, at Lexington, where they will take a special course of training. They will report at Camp Buell on Sept. 16.

Corporal Teddy Shannon, formerly of Paris, writes THE NEWS as follows:

"Newport News, Va., Sept. 6.
"Landed here this morning after having been on the road since Monday. Had a delightful trip, only it did not last long enough. Passed through Covington and Maysville, but did not get to see Paris, as our route had been changed. We are scheduled for Camp Morrison, Va. How is Paris and all the Paris people?

Is the newspaper game still going strong?"

"Yours,

"CORPORAL TEDDY SHANNON,
30th Balloon Co., Air Service, Camp Morrison, Va."

Mr. Kenneth Alexander, of Woodford county, well-known in Paris, who has seen service in France, Italy, Serbia, Siberia and Greece, as an ambulance driver, has just finished his course in the Aviation School at Cambridge, Mass., and is now a full-fledged "flier" in Uncle Sam's service.

One of the finest-looking young men who has donned Uncle Sam's uniform is Mr. O. W. Gaines, of Georgetown. Mr. Gaines, who is a cadet at the Annapolis Naval Academy, has been a guest of his uncle, Mr. William Dale, and Mrs. Dale. Mr. Gaines is a son of Mr. B. O. Gaines, formerly owner and editor of the Georgetown News.

L. & N. AND C. & O. FREIGHTS COLLIDE.

At Winchester, Friday morning, a freight train No. 77 on the Chesapeake & Ohio, and a double-header train on the Louisville & Nashville, met at the Winchester depot, in a collision. Three coal cars were wrecked, the end of the ticket office and a section of the roof of the depot were torn off. The C. & O. train was in charge of Conductor Lancaster and Engineer Huffman, while the L. & N. train was in charge of Conductor Dick Brown and Engineers J. A. Blanton and Wayne T. Lafferty, all of Paris. Trainmaster P. F. Keshler, of Paris, was on the L. & N. train in the caboose. No one was injured. The wreck stopped traffic for several hours.

FARMERS RAISING OWN FOOD SUPPLY.

Farmers are becoming more independent in regard to food supply than they have ever been since before the Civil War, in the opinion of a field man of the United States Department of Agriculture, who recently returned from an inspection trip in New York and the New England States. Farmers in that territory who have never before raised wheat, barley and buckwheat are growing small patches of such crops for their own use.

WOMAN FATALLY BURNED WHILE STARTING FIRE

While making a fire at her home near Muir, Saturday, Mrs. Carrie R. Honaker was fatally burned as the result of a match coming in contact with a can of oil in her hand, causing an explosion and throwing fire all over her.

She was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital, in Lexington, and died shortly afterward.

MILKING MACHINES TIMED BY COW'S HEART BEAT.

According to tests made by the Canadian Government milking machines to operate properly should take into account the heart beats of the cow. Examinations have shown that there is a relatively small amount of milk in a cow's udder at any one time, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine. Many times that amount can be obtained in a milking because nature secretes the milk from the glands to which blood is supplied as fast as the udder is emptied.

MILLERSBURG VISITED BY A $35,000 FIRE.

About one o'clock yesterday afternoon Millersburg was visited by a very disastrous fire, entailing a loss to property to the extent of about $35,000.

The fire started in the rear of the apartments occupied by Mrs. Sue Sandusky and rapidly spread until half of the entire business block, which is located in the most prominent part of the city, had been consumed.

Mrs. Sandusky had just finished preparing noon-day lunch on an oil stove and had gone to one of the neighbors and left the stove burning, which exploded a short time afterward and caused the fire.

The property destroyed is as follows:

Rufus Butler's grocery store.
Apartments of Mrs. Sue Sandusky.
N. D. Riddon restaurant.
Phillips' Racket Store.
Billy Miller's barber shop.
Dr. H. C. Burroughs' office.

Insurance on the real estate, all of which was the property of Mrs. Sue Sandusky and the stocks of merchandise owned by the occupants, amounted to $9,500, which was carried with the insurance agency of Sanford Allen.

Quite a good part of the stock of the Butler grocery was saved.

All the furnishings belonging to Mrs. Sandusky was lost, as she had the apartments locked up. Among her belongings was a rare collection of antiques that were very valuable and could not be replaced for any amount of money; also handsome old furniture and heirlooms that were highly prized.

The Millersburg fire department did excellent work, and were ably assisted by volunteers, and especially the colored population, who worked heroically. The Carlisle department was called on and responded promptly, bringing their wonderful little steamer to the assistance.

Millersburg has an equipment of two steam engines and one chemical engine, and is well fixed for fire fighting.

The fire was gotten under control about 2:30 and was stopped just as the handsome new building of the Exchange Bank was reached, it being only slightly damaged.

INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN FOR WAR RELIEF WORK.

President Wilson has decided that the seven recognized societies doing welfare work among the American soldiers at home and overseas shall conduct a joint campaign for the funds necessary to carry on their work during the coming year.

The President's decision was communicated to Chairman Raymond D. Fosdick, of the Commission of Training Camps Activities, who in making public the President's letter announced that the campaign would be conducted during the week beginning November 11, and that the American people would be asked to give $170,500,000 to the organization. The budget is divided as follows: Y. M. C. A., $100,000,000; Y. W. C. A., $15,000,000.

National Catholic War Council (including work of Knights of Columbus and special war activities of women), $30,000,000; Jewish Welfare Board, $3,500,000; American Library Association, $3,500,000; War Camp Community Service, $15,000,000; Salvation Army, $3,500,000.

KENTUCKIANS RAID RAILROAD LUNCH STAND.

When a special train of seven coaches loaded with Kentucky young men going to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station arrived at Bedford, Indiana, over the Monon a number of the men left the train while it was standing at the railroad depot and made a raid on the lunchroom of Shady Akers on the south end of the platform.

Watermelons, cigars, candies, cigarettes and other articles which appealed to them were seized and the protests of Akers were unheeded.

An account of the occurrence has been telegraphed to the commanding officer at the Great Lakes Training Station.

GEO. B. MARTIN, CATLETTSBURG, SUCCEEDS LATE SENATOR OLLIE JAMES.

George B. Martin, of Catlettsburg, was appointed Friday as United States Senator designated to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Ollie M. James. Gov. Stanley made known his appointment shortly before leaving Louisville Friday night, declaring he felt happy in his choice. Senator Beckham, Friday afternoon called on Gov. Stanley and later called on the Democrats to support the party nominee.

George Brown Martin was born in Prestonsburg, Floyd county, forty-two years ago. He is a son of Alexander L. Martin, a former State Senator, and one of Kentucky's ablest orators, and a grandson of John P. Martin, member of Congress from Kentucky in 1846. The new Senator was educated in the schools of Catlettsburg and graduated from Central University. He was admitted to practice law in 1900, and has practiced his profession in Catlettsburg since that time.

He was appointed County Judge of Boyd county by Gov. Beckham in 1904 to fill a vacancy, that being the only office he has held up to his appointment by Gov. Stanley. Although having served as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee from the State at large for several years, Senator Martin is not regarded as a professional politician. He is a member of the American Bar Association and is on the National Conference of Commissions on Uniform State Laws.

Senator Martin is the first member of the Federal Senate from Eastern Kentucky since Gen. "Cerro-Gordo" Williams, of Montgomery county, then in the Tenth Congressional district, served as United States Senator from 1879 to 1885. Senator Martin is unmarried.

EDITORIAL MUSINGS.

America's Answer.

Announcement of the government's army programme completes the American answer to Germany's "peace offensive." This and other developments of the day mean nothing less than a demand for Germany's unconditional surrender, says the New York Herald's Washington correspondent.

Germany is now called upon to make her choice of bowing to the tremendous American military machine or being annihilated by it.

The army programme means an American army of more than six million men. Behind them are millions more, so that the number of Americans in France never will grow less but always greater.

Quantity production has been reached not only in the merchant marine. It has been reached in the manufacture of ordnance, of submarine chasers, of destroyers, of every kind of war munition or agency.

America has solved the problem of organization and is now prepared to grapple with the enemy with ever increasing force and power.

German military critics always have insisted that if the United States could organize her resources she would be the greatest military power in the world, but always doubted the possibility of its being accomplished.

In spite of the difficulties involved, the United States has done this, and after one year and three months participation in the war is prepared to announce to the world her determination to wage it to the finish.

War Savings Stamps.

Quite a few persons who signed pledge cards to buy War Savings Stamps, have not yet redeemed them at the post office, while many who have bought have not taken the amount their financial condition justifies. Now Bourbon county must sell its quota and the sooner it does the better. We must back our brave boys in France and keep the Hun on the run. Remember it takes money, as well as men, to win a war.

The security offered is the best in the world and the rate of interest (four per cent, compounded quarterly) makes them the most attractive investment ever offered by the government. Don't stand back and wait for some one else, but go to the post office to-day and buy all you can and get the habit of buying regularly. Thrive by thrift. Don't be a spender, be a saver.

A Tip to Sugar Lovers.

One Paris housewife has solved the situation thus: At breakfast each morning she places on the table in the sugar bowl the day's supply of sugar for the entire family, for all purposes. Father and the children help themselves and keep a close watch on each other. At the end of the day if any sugar remains in the bowl it is transferred to a reserve supply, saved for dessert, and the bowl is replenished with the stipulated ration for the new day. When there is enough sugar in the reserve supply for a simple dessert the family have a treat. It's up to them. The result is that from the oldest to the youngest the members of the family have cut down their ordinary table portions; in order to win the reward of a pudding or a pastry once or twice a week. It works like a charm. At two pounds a month each individual is entitled to a little over an ounce a day. On this basis sugar is metered out for the sugar bowl.

Autos As A Necessity.

The Fuel Administration evidently did not mean to restrict rural residents from riding to church in automobiles on Sunday when its request stated that "motor vehicles on errands of necessity in rural communities where transportation by steam or electricity is not available" were exempt from compliance with the request.

For, as the Louisville Evening Post has pointed out, "the use of automobiles as a necessity depends not on a day of the week, but on the circumstances of the occasion." Certainly a man's spiritual needs constitute a necessity. And most assuredly one should be permitted to go to church in a Ford, if not in an automobile. For, as some wag has remarked, a Ford will jar the devil out of him before he gets to church.

But, seriously speaking, or writing, rather, the roads were alive in this vicinity Sunday, Sept. 1st, with automobiles who were not on their way to church. That's a dead moral certainty. They may have been using church-going as an excuse for that, but it was to the observer plain "joyriding."

Keep Your Poise.

We are all of us at a little tension just now. The war is becoming a very real thing, and we have been roused thoroughly out of our regular routine. There has been a big shift of values. What once was of minor importance has become big, and what once filled the whole heavens is being put aside as nonessential. We are looking at life from a new viewpoint.

Consequently this is the time of all times in which the individual should keep watchful hold on himself. He needs to take care that while he is adjusting himself to new social and industrial and economic conditions and while he is acquiring a new moral viewpoint—for it is unquestionably true that some of the virtues of yesterday have become the vice of to-day and contrariwise—he does not allow any deterioration of his general standards or of his power to see clearly.

There never was a time in which it was more necessary for a man to possess his soul in patience."

And perhaps the beginning of the duty of the man of to-day to himself and to his neighbors and to the State, is the preservation of his nervous poise. For on the preservation of this depends in considerable measure everything else.

IF THEN—WHY NOT NOW?

Unity of action in Washington is as essential to the success of the present war as it was during the Spanish-American war, if anything, more so, because the task is much more gigantic.

Republican leaders claimed it then, a Democratic administration might claim it now, and the claim in both instances would be well founded.

The chance for unity of action is increased by electing both Senate and House men of the President's party.

"Support the President" was made the issue in 1898, when Republican leaders made the concerted plea to the people that the defeat of McKinley's party at the polls would be misinterpreted in the capitals of Europe.

"Support the President" should be the issue now, when the election of men of the Wilson party to the Senate and House will indicate that there is as little break in the ranks here as there is in our ranks on the battlefield "over there" and when the contrary now—as claimed then—would be misinterpreted in the capitals of Europe and construed "as a refusal to sustain the war" and our aims in the war.

And so the principal issue in the fall campaigns this year is the same as it was in the fall campaigns in 1898. The Republicans used it then. The Democrats should use it now. It won out then. It will win out now.

A CHILD'S PRAYER.

Dear God, my daddy's in this war
And other daddy's, too;
I don't know 'zactly where they are,
But you know, God, don't you?I can't imagine anything
That's worse than this fight
An' God, I'll bet you're wondering
About it, day and night.My mother's prayers are same as mine
And other mothers, too;
There's more than "two or three"
this time—You'll listen, God, won't you?
You'll bring my daddy back again,
No matter if he's lame
Or—blind, or deaf—or anything.
We'll love him just the same.

GUARD MILK FOR NAVAL CADETS

The quality of the milk furnished for the use of the future naval officers of the United States Navy at Annapolis is being closely guarded. Representatives of the Dairy Division of the United States Department of Agriculture make monthly visits to the United States Naval Academy dairy at Gambrills, Md., and on each visit the dairy is scored and the bacterial count is taken of a number of samples of milk and recommendations for improvement are made. There are in this dairy about 200 grade Holstein cows.

Council of Defense Gives Notice of Draft Registration—All Males, 18-45, Must Register.

Chairman A. B. Hancock of the Bourbon County Council of Defense is in receipt of the following:

KENTUCKY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 6, 1918.

To The Bourbon County Council of Defense:

The Kentucky Council of Defense has just received the following telegram from the office of the Provost Marshal General, at Washington. Please read this telegram carefully and bring the contents of it to the attention of the Mayor of your town, or your County Judge, and request him to issue a proclamation thereon. This proclamation should not be issued until the President has fixed the date of registration:

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28th, 1918.

Kentucky Council of Defense, Louisville, Ky.

"As a general suggestion, so that all boards may issue approximately the same call for the coming draft registration, please obtain from the Governor of your State, or draft executive, a proper revision of the following rough draft of an order or proclamation calling on the people of your State to observe the Federal rulings covering draft registration, and release same for publication throughout your State, with whatever changes are made necessary to meet local conditions, as soon as the President's coming proclamation fixes the date for draft registration. Also have your own publicity campaign on these facts and obtain a similar proclamation from the Mayors of your cities.

"The President of the United States, by proclamation, has fixed Thursday, September 12, for the registration throughout the United States of all men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five inclusive, for military service, except those who have already registered and those who are not required under the law to do so.

"Under separate authority vested in the President, it has been ordered that State headquarters, local boards and other officials of the State will hold themselves in readiness to proceed promptly with their work of registration on the date fixed.

"Existing draft machinery will be used with such increased facilities and additional registrars as are required for this enrollment. Under the President's proclamation, the Governors of all States have been called upon to supervise this registration and the Adjutant General, or Draft Executive, will, under this proclamation, be the central administrative authority. All local boards will have immediate direction and supervision within their respective jurisdiction. The actual registration will be made in the customary voting precincts with the jurisdiction of each board, or in such places as the local board having jurisdiction shall designate by public notice.

"Rulings issued by the Provost Marshal as to persons who are required to register under the act are as follows:

"All male persons who shall have attained their eighteenth birthday and shall not have attained their forty-sixth birthday on, or before day set for registration by the President must register. The only exceptions are:

"(A) Persons who, prior to the day set for registration by the President, have registered under the terms of the act approved May 18, 1917, (which fixed the original age limits at 21 to 30 inclusive), or under the terms of public resolution of Congress, approved May 20, 1918, (providing for the registration since June 5, 1917, of those reaching the age of 21 years), whether called for public service or not; and

"(B) Officers and regular army officers appointed, and men of the forces drafted under the provisions of act approved May 18, 1917; officers and enlisted men of the National Guard while in the service of the United States; and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps and enlisted men in the enlisted reserve corps while in the service of the United States; and

"(C) Officers and enlisted men of the Navy and Marine Corps and Marine Corps Reserve while in the service of the United States; and

"(D) Diplomatic representatives, technical attaches of foreign embassies and legations, consuls general, consuls and consuls agents of foreign countries residing in the United States.

"Persons not subject to registration solely on account of being in the military or naval service of the United States become subject to registration and are required to register immediately upon leaving such military or naval service.

"Citizens of the United States or persons who have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, who do not register on account of absence from the territorial limits of the United States, are required to register within five days after their return to the United States.

"The regulations then warn registrants and all other persons charged with a knowledge of the regulations, that ignorance of the provisions will not excuse them.

"These regulations, it is set forth, 'Have the force and effect of law, and all persons required by these regulations to be registered, and all persons who claim any right or privilege in respect of any registrant, are charged with the knowledge of the provision thereof.' Failure by any person required to be registered to perform any duty prescribed by these regulations is a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for one year, and may result in the loss of valuable rights and privileges, and an immediate induction into the military service.

"Local police authorities in all parts of the country will co-operate with the Government in the enforcement of order on registration day. Regulations prescribed by the President and sent to draft officials of various States, contain the following provisions:

"On the day set for registration, all Federal Marshals, police officers, State count, township, municipal and town—of whatever grade or class—shall hold themselves in readiness to render whatever assistance may be necessary in preserving order at places of registration and in assisting in bringing about a complete registration.

"All Marshals, Deputy Marshals, investigating agents and police officers, shall examine the registration lists and report without delay to the local boards the names of any persons known by them to have failed to register themselves, when liable to registration; and it shall be the duty of local boards to report to the proper United States District Attorney all cases coming to their attention of persons who have failed to present themselves for registration as required by law.

"Police officers may require any persons subject to registration to exhibit his registration certificate.

"In every case in which a duly designated officer or agent refuses or fails to act, the Governor, Adjutant General, or member of a local board, will proceed at once to name another officer or agent for such duty, and will bring the fact of such refusal or failure and the circumstances connected therewith, to the attention of the proper United States District Attorney, with a view to the institution of prosecution of such an officer or agent, as provided in Section 6 of the act approved May 18, 1917.

"It is essential that the people of this State shall accord the fullest measure of co-operation in the carrying out of this order. Ignorance of the law and of regulations issued by proper authority under the law, excuses no one. All persons on the border line of the age of registration will be required to give adequate proof that they are outside of the age limit specified. The penalty for failure to register is one year's imprisonment, and no man can exonerate himself by the payment of a fine."

UNCEASING MISERY.

Some Paris Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort.

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof of merit in Paris testimony:

Phillip M. Heller, proprietor meat market, 722 Main street, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times in the past and have been greatly benefited. At times my back was weak and lame and the kidney secretions passed too frequently, making me get up often at night. I have used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at those times and they have always rid me of the complaint. I think they are a splendid medicine and gladly recommend them."

LETTERS FROM BOURBON COUNTY SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Marion Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Thomas, of North Middletown, who went overseas sometime ago with the Dr. Barrow Base Hospital Unit No. 40, writes from England as follows to relatives in North Middletown:

"Somewhere in England,

July 21, 1918.

"Dear Ones:—I am getting along fine. Arrived all O. K. Never got sick at all. Don't you know the first time I saw when I arrived here in England was one of my old Transylvanian friends.

"Well, we are stationed here in England; we have a hospital, all by ourselves, a new one. I don't know how many months we will be here in this location. We may never see France.

"We certainly had a wonderful trip. I never saw such pretty scenery as there was in the country in which we landed. The houses are attached one to another. It looked as if about 500 families lived in one building. There were about 100 children in each yard.

"I will be glad when we get settled. I certainly hated to leave the old U. S. A., but am now glad I came. I wouldn't have missed it for any thing. We were able to see the effects of the war before we landed safely and more than ever by seeing the soldiers that had been to the front. Our hospital will be about five miles from where we are now.

"Just think of the Y. M. C. A. man here being one of my Transylvanian class mates! That makes it nice, doesn't it? He is the only one I have seen from close home.

"Herbert and myself have been together the whole time in the army. Well I will close for this time. Will write more in a day or two, as I haven't found out what I can write just yet. Answer soon. With love and kisses.

"Your son and brother,

"PVT. MARION C. THOMAS, Base Hospital No. 40, American Expeditionary Force, England."

Dr. Martha Petree, of this city, is in receipt of letters from her nephew, Harry Petree, of Ogden, Mo., who is in Uncle Sam's service in France, both of which are very interesting. The letters, under date of July 23 and August 3, are as follows:

"France, July 23, 1918.

"I am afraid I have been neglecting you in the way of writing the past ten days, but I have really not been at fault very much. Here we have no writing room at all, and it is very hard to get any writing done, if I had time. Since coming here I have been rushed to death, ferrying planes all over France, often traveling all night by train to get back, arriving just in time to leave on another trip in the morning. It is raining to-day, so I have had time to shave (the first time in four days), write up my dairy, and start this letter.

"I like the camp here very much, and also the work. I am not far from Paris, and get a chance to see it almost every day. My work is delivering airplanes of all kinds to different points over France. I think it is good experience flying all types of planes—chasse, artillery, observation, reconnaissance, bombing. One day you jump into a chasse plane you have never seen before, the next time it is a big bomber. It isn't much of a trick, after flying the smaller planes, to get away with the big ones. The latter are merely less sensitive and are more sluggish. The first big plane I flew here was surely a queer sensation to me. I couldn't feel it like the chase planes and merely flew it mechanically. After flying a few times in larger boats they seem less strange, but I am not keen about flying them. In my trips here I got some good practice following a map, for some trips run over 200 miles.

"I don't know how long I will be here. It may be a month or so, or less than a week. I am acting as ferry pilot temporarily, while waiting to go to the front. The nearest I have been to the front so far has been taking planes to the front.

Twice I stopped over night in a town bombed by Germans. The first night I was so tired I slept through all the noise of bombs, and machine guns and didn't know about it until next day. Nobody seemed to pay any particular attention to such things, for things went on just the same.

"Must close now, for it is clearing up and I will probably take a trip this p. m. Lovingly,

"HARRY."

"France, August 3.

"I am still ferrying machines all around. I fly everything from planes somewhat resembling chicken coops to the modern, trim looking fighters. Made one interesting trip of 300 miles. My destination was a field on the coast, and I had a great swim. The beach was the finest I have ever seen, and the water just right. Then we had a 50-mile auto trip in the evening to a large town where we took the train. We went through an interesting country in the Brittany section. The life there has often been painted by great artists. The country was lowlying, and cut by ditches and dykes. Dutch windmills dotted the landscape. The houses and frames were on the tiniest scale, scrupulously neat. The peasants were picturesque, with their bare legs and wooden shoes. Altogether it was about the most interesting trip I ever took.

"The worst feature of the work is riding on the trains nearly every night. Of course there is nothing like a Pullman, and often we won't have our clothes off more than two times a week. The cross-country work is very good. One trip takes me 200 miles, all of which is almost in sight of the lines, so a person has to be careful to go the right direction. As soon as I can be relieved here I will go to the front. It may be several weeks yet, I can't tell.

"Must close now and get a bit of sleep. Last night I slept about an hour and a half on the floor of the corridor of the train. Couldn't find a seat and didn't get much rest.

"Love to all.

"HARRY."

Mrs. Duncan Bell is in receipt of the following letter, written from France under date of July 22, by Charles Edwards, colored, formerly of Paris:

"France, July 22, 1918.

"Dear Mrs. Bell:—This leaves me well and enjoying the best of health. How are you all? I have been in four battles, and haven't even a single scratch to show as a souvenir. All of which I am glad to state, and very thankful for.

"Well, Mrs. Bell, the Kaiser's forces will soon be completely wiped out. At least that is the firm belief over here, and certainly the intention of the Allies to accomplish. We are keeping them under a perfectly ceaseless shower of bullets, shells, gas, flames, shrapnel, air bombs, hand grenades, and almost every conceivable kind of missile that helps to remind them of our presence and their need for making haste. The best thing of all is the fact that we have successfully braved the submarines. So you can imagine how old Kaiser Bill and Von Hindenburg and the rest of that ungodly crew feel over so many of our boys being in France, ready to answer any cause.

You know from this that we are feeling fine and fit enough to whip any race of people on earth that are as mean as the Germans. So, we will be at home very soon, and will have to tell our story in person. I trust to hear from you or some of the Paris people real soon.

"Very Truly,

"PRIVATE CHARLES EDWARDS,
"Co. H., 372 U. S. R. I., S. P. 179

A HERO EVERY DAY.

This is the story of three men, representing the Navy Dental Corps, the Hospital Corps and the United States Marine Corps. All are dead now—a part of the toll of the Battle of Bouresches, won by the Marines early in June. The Marine, Capt. Donald F. Duncan, had charged, leading his men against a shower of machine gun bullets to the aid of a platoon that was almost cut to pieces. And as he went forward he carried a pipe in his mouth and dallied with the stick he carried. The Marines behind him, steadied by his coolness, pressed forward. Then the machine gun stream caught Captain Duncan, drilling him through again and again. His men went on. The Captain fell, gasping with pain. Dental Surgeon Osborne of the United States Navy, and a Hospital Corpsman, unidentified, ran forward to his assistance. They carried him to shelter. Then—the roaring boom of a big shell. A great, gaping hole where the shelter had been. The three men were gone, literally blown out of existence.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

At the Red Cross Room.

Tuesday—Woman's Society of the Christian church.

Wednesday—Woman's Society of the Episcopal church.

Thursday—Young Woman's Mission Circle.

Friday—Progressive Culture Club.

Registration of the women of Bourbon county under the direction of the Council of National Defense is proceeding with rapidity and enthusiasm. Headquarters at the Bourbon-Agricultural Bank is a very busy place, with Mrs. E. F. Clay as chairman, Miss Mary Fithian Hutchcraft as secretary, twenty-eight registrars for the county and twenty-two for the city.

So many requests for a business course have been made that plans for a night class have been discussed. Several prominent young women have signed up for training in motor mechanics and service of truck driver. Others have expressed a desire for camp or canteen service, and several plan to take the course in telegraphy. Information regarding government positions in Washington is also available at the office—stenographers, typewriters, booth helpers, filing clerks and office attendants are badly needed in the War Department, and salaries are most attractive. Girls with neither training or experience are used for departmental clerks, but all applicants must pass the civil service examination.

The drive for nurses is being especially emphasized. Twenty-five graduate nurses must be enrolled by Jan. 1, so the Surgeon-General is making an earnest appeal to young women at home to enter training for the student nurses' reserve in civilian hospitals or to register with the army school in Washington for training in cantonment hospitals. Fourteen Bourbon women have responded to the appeal so far.

The call has also come for hospital attendants for convalescent units in France—women with cheerful dispositions and iron constitution. Transportation and living expenses are paid by the Red Cross. Applicants for Red Cross nursing should have a High School education and should be between 19 and 35 years of age. Applicants for canteen service should speak French fluently and be able to pay their own expenses—$2,000 a year as a minimum. No woman under 25 years of age will be given a passport for overseas service under any circumstances.

Registration of women in Bourbon county through a house-to-house canvass of both the city and county closed Saturday, with an approximate total of 4,500 white women registered. This number will be increased when the final tabulation is made, as several registrars are yet to report.

Fourteen young women who registered signified their intention of becoming army nurses, and have volunteered their services.

Registration of the negro women of the city and county has been deferred because of a shortage of cards. This work will be taken up from Sept. 16 to 21 under the supervision of colored people.

HOW TOWN PEOPLE AID THE FARMERS.

How the little town of Delhi, situated in the Catskill Mountains in New York State, is aiding farmers in the surrounding community in securing much-needed labor is told by a representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, who has recently returned from an inspection trip in that district. The local commercial club of Delhi has organized some of the business men of the town who are willing to do farm work after 3 o'clock. The farmer who needs help telephones to the club, and at 3 o'clock the volunteer workers climb into automobiles and report to his farm for a half-day's work. About 35 business men are being placed every day on the farms around Delhi. The local minister has set the example. He spends one day helping each of the farmers in his congregation.

HAD HIS GOOD POINTS

"Wherever did you get that dreadful black eye, Mrs. Hawkins?" said the East-end district visitor, as she seated herself on the extreme edge of the shaky chair in the room.

"It were the result of a triflin' haltercation wiv my 'usband, mum," replied the lady of the house.

"Dear, dear, dear!" cried the visitor, holding her hands in horror; "how dreadful! What a bad, wicked man your 'usband must be!"

"Not at all, mum," retorted the other with dignity. "Awkins is 'asty, but 'e's a perfect gentleman at 'eart. I can assure you that after 'e'd giv' me this black eye 'e's sat 'olding a cold fryin'-pan to it for upwards of a hower, a-trin' to deduce the swellin' so I could see to wash his clothes. A little hattening like that goes a long w'y towards makin' marr'd life 'appy, mum, as I dessay you've fahnd yerself."

TOBACCO PATCH ON FIRE PRESENTS UNIQUE SIGHT.

The Dover News tells of an unusual sight: "The unusual spectacle of a patch of growing tobacco on fire was witnessed a few days ago on the farm of August Dietz, just west of Dover. A passing train threw fire into the tobacco field of Mr. Dietz and Herman Thomas, which caught in the dry ground leaves of the plants deadened and dried by the excessive drought prevailing. The fire spread from plant to plant and soon would have reached a large tobacco barn had it not been discovered and extinguished in time. The patch is perfectly free from grass and weeds and the tobacco alone furnished fuel for the spread of the fire, which had burned over considerable area before it was discovered."

EDITORS TO MEET TO PLAN LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE.

Sales directors and Kentucky editors will hold a meeting in Louisville, September 16 and 17 in preparation for the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, according to an announcement from the Liberty Loan headquarters of the Eighth Federal Reserve District in St. Louis. Announcement was also made that competition between men and women sales organizations would be discontinued in the future, as this is not for the best interest of the campaign.

When a man has youth and health and nothing to worry him, he can't stand prosperity. He usually goes and gets married.

STOCK, CROP, ETC.

Mr. Calvert Meng purchased of Western parties a pair of mares for $50.00.

Mr. Rankin King, of Paris, sold to Mr. Clarence Kerr, of Lexington, a Shetland pony for $75.

Auctioneer M. F. Kenney makes the following report of the John Eldridge sale, on the Frank M. Clay farm; near Paris yesterday:

One horse, $151; one cow, $126;

stockhogs, $36 each; chickens, 90 cents apiece; turkeys, $3.00 each;

farming implements and household goods sold well.

A. P. Adair & Son, Paris, Ky., report the following recent sales of Durocs: To J. C. Leer, Jr., Millersburg, Ky., a Duroc gilt by Taxpayer's Model, $50; to J. M. O'Daniel, East Chattanooga, Tenn., boar, $50; J. L. Brough, Helena, Ky., boar, $40; David Gaines, Paris, Ky., gilt, $50.

The North Middletown exhibitors, McCray Brothers, have had another successful season with their show horses. At the Mt. Sterling, Harrodsburg, Lawrenceburg and Shelbyville fairs they have been especially successful with their stable, which is smaller this year than for several seasons. At Harrodsburg they performed the somewhat unusual stunt of winning the sweepstakes for saddle, harness and roadster classes, while at Shelbyville the sweepstakes classes for saddle horses and roadsters was theirs. Their stable this year is composed of the five-gaited saddle horses Nicolette and Highland Choice and the roadsters Edward Grey and Martha Wilson.

CONSCIENCE THE LIMIT IN SUN-DAY JOYRIDING.

The conscience of each citizen must be his best guide in determining whether it is proper to ride to church on Sunday in a motor car. The fuel administration gives this answer to State and local administrators who had asked for an interpretation of the request that the use of automobiles be discontinued on Sundays east of the Mississippi in order to save gasoline for war purposes.

Where churches can be reached reasonably in another way, automobiles should not be used, the administration said.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!

THE NEWS has again demonstrated the fact that "it pays to advertise." In last Friday's issue we asked for copies of THE NEWS of September 3, owing to the fact that our edition of that date had been exhausted. The responses to the request were numerous, coming from all parts of the city, country and State. "It pays to advertise."

Residents of Third street and Stoner avenue are indebted to City Foreman John Mallaney for prompt work in removing the forest of weeds and grass that had for some time almost covered the approaches to pavements. Mr. Mallaney saw the appeal for help in THE NEWS, and at once got busy with his force of workmen. "It pays to advertise."
Then again. "Nearly everybody reads THE NEWS."

Now, if Mr. Mallaney will get busy and have the weeds cut and the tree tops removed, which were blown down by the storm some two months ago, at south end of Pleasant street,
more thanks will be coming to him.

HE HAD FORGOTTEN.

(Everybody's Magazine.)

He had been promoted to Captain's rank and decided to celebrate the occasion. He entered a swagger West End restaurant and "did himself" handsomely. The waiter fussed around, smiling and obsequious and expectant. He brought back the change after paying the bill, and was very wroth when the officer pocketed the lot. But there was still time, and bowing and smiling he assisted the khaki man into his coat and handed him his hat and cane.
Nothing happened, so the waiter ventured meaningly:

"Haven't you forgotten something,
sir?"

The officer started. "By Jove!" he said. "I have!"

He turned and picked a half-crown from beneath his plate and put it back in his pocket.

SCHEDULE ARRANGED FOR THE FOUR-MINUTE SPEAKERS.

Announcement of the needs of men for the service, and the provisions of the new registration order requiring all men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five to register on September 12, were made Saturday afternoon and evening at the performances of the Sparks' Circus.

In response to a request made by Mr. John J. Williams, of Paris,
Chairman of the Bourbon County
Four-Minute Men, similar announcements were made from the pulpits of the Paris churches Sunday morning and evening. All through the week four-minute addresses were made at the Alamo Theatre and the Paris
Grand Opera House by different speakers, who briefly told the provisions of the order, and admonishing all men within the provisions of the order to be sure to register at the voting booths in their respective precincts on Thursday, September 12.

At the Grand Opera House Friday evening Hon. Claude M. Thomas made an address along the above lines, and also paid a fitting tribute to Bourbon county's hero, Bishop Batterton, who died in a hospital in France on July 20. In the afternoon Judge Denis Dundon spoke at the Alamo Theatre on the same subject.
At the Alamo yesterday afternoon,
Rev. R. C. Goldsmith, pastor of the Paris Baptist church, delivered a four-minute talk, and at the Paris
Grand last night Rev. J. J. Rice, pastor of the Paris Presbyterian church, spoke to the big audience.

The schedule for the remainder of the week is as follows: At the Alamo, to-day, 3:30 p. m., J. W. Jones; at the Alamo Theatre to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 p. m., Rev. John J.
Rice; at the Paris Grand to-morrow night, at 8:15 o'clock, Judge Denis Dundon.

BAD NEWS FOR BERLIN.

The war news from the Eastern front these days is bad news for the German people. Quotations from German newspapers portray the gloom that overhangs the people in the small towns and country are equally depressed is not to be doubted.

The Liberty Loan bond buyers of the preceding loans have their share in the success of the entente allies. They furnished the sinews of war not only to fight the U-boats and to build ships, not only to raise, equip, and send our soldiers over, not only to supply them and our allies with food and munitions, but more than $6,000,000,000 of their money has been loaned to our allies so that they may prosecute the war with vigor and strength.

We here at home have an opportunity to send the Germans some more bad news. The Germans have great respect for money; they know its vital value in waging war. They know, too, that the support the American people give a Government loan measures largely the support they give their government, the moral as well as the financial support they give their armies in the field.

A tremendous subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan will be as distressing to the German people as a defeat for them on the battle field, and it may mean as much. It spells their defeat; it breaks their morale; it means power to their enemies. A subscription to the loan is a contribution to German defeat and American victory.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore required constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the blood on Mucous Surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

NOT WANTED.

(Manufacturers' Record)
A subscriber to the Manufacturers' Record writes:

"I believe that all Germans and Austrians who left this country to serve in the army and navy of our enemy and have fought against us should under no condition be allowed to return to this country after the war.

"This goes without saying. The barriers against the admission into this country of men who having lived in America left this country to fight against it should be put up so high that not a single one of them should ever be able to land in America. Moreover, every alien enemy in this country who is found to be active in any work against America, or men who are now being interned for violation of our laws because of their co-operation with Germany and their efforts to circumvent America's work, should be sent out of this country at the first opportunity and never again be permitted to enter for any purpose whatsoever.

"We want no men of that kind to curse this land with their presence again."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

This is not only one of the best and most efficient medicines for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, but is also pleasant to take, which is important when a medicine must be given to young children.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been in use for many years and has met with much favor wherever its good qualities have become known.

Many mothers have given it their unqualified endorsement. Wm. Scruby, Chillicothe, Mo., writes: "I have raised three children, have always used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and found it to be the best for coughs, colds and croup. It is pleasant to take. Both adults and children like it. My wife and I have always felt safe from croup with it in the house." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic.

NEW RECORD EXPECTED FOR NEXT LIBERTY LOAN.

The Treasury feels so sure the Fourth Liberty Loan will break all records for size and number of subscribers, it has ordered the Bureau of Engraving to prepare about 35,000,000 separate bonds, or 8,500,000 more than for the third loan, when about 26,500,000 bonds were sold.

One-third of the fourth loan bonds already have been engraved and they are being turned out at the rate of 500,000 a day.

of Bishop Batterton and his brave allies whose love of country is supremely above the sordid things of life.

"Bishop Batterton knew no fear. That noble virtue which we call courage had the supreme place in his heart. He had the courage to stand at the post of duty and defend his honor with his life. Having formed a conviction, truth and duty demanded that he stand by it. And when the supreme test came he was equal to the emergency and proved himself a hero of the highest type. Rise up, spirit of Bishop Batterton, Knight of the Cross of Jesus Christ, for thou art worthy of a name amongst the immortals. I am glad to say that same spirit of right living, square dealing and fair play which led him to give his life in the service of his country, is the same spirit that led him earlier in his life to dedicate himself to the Lord. On the 2nd day of November, 1914, it was my great pleasure to baptize him with my own hands and receive him as a member of this church. And the lone star of gold which is seen in our service flag shows that he is the first and only one so far to make the supreme sacrifice.

"Time will not permit me to prolong these remarks, and words cannot portray the value of this young life or the extent of our great loss. If I could but speak one word of comfort to-day to these sorrowing hearts it would be a service precious to my soul. And if I could bring the message of this young life to the citizenship of Bourbon county I am sure it would be an inspiration to service such as we have never felt before.

He being dead, yet speaketh in thunder tones, as we remember the service he rendered and the sacrifice he made. We speak of the spirit of '76 and of the heroism of the noble six hundred. The same spirit animated the heart of Bishop Batterton and the brave young men who stood side by side with him on the battle front.

And that is the spirit of the American boy, the unconquerable spirit. The spirit of the boys who stood on the ill-fated Lusitania, just before she made her fatal plunge, with nothing but the blue canopy of Heaven above them and a watery grave beneath, standing in the immediate presence of death without a quiver, listening to the band playing 'Near My God to Thee,' away out in mid ocean, one thousand miles at sea, that spirit will never surrender to the Prussian War God.

"The brave American boys on board the Tuscania, mercilessly torpedoed and sunk in the Irish Sea, standing with nothing but the starry firmament above them and the billowy sea beneath them, singing 'America,' think you that spirit can be conquered by the chicanery and trickery of the fiends of darkness that stop at no outrage? Will the spirit of the American soldier ever die, his courage ever falter, his faith ever fail? Will he ever permit the world grabbing Hun to place his swinish foot on American soil or sink his greedy claws in the heart of American Liberty? Not while the spirit of Bishop Batterton lives, for he has given his life to throttle this monster of all iniquity, he has made the supreme sacrifice rather than live to see one single foot of our beloved land defiled as a swilling place for the world-hated Hun. And the millions of American soldiers that we are sending overseas will sacrifice their lives to conquer the bands of outlaws that scourge the earth.

"Oh that our brave soldiers of democracy may plant the white banners of peace around the circles of the earth that war shall be no more! Victory must perch upon their banners, for the blood of Bishop Batterton and our other heroic dead who have fallen by his side, cries out to God for vengeance against that vandal tribe that walks the earth, the enemy of God and man. No night of defeat shall fall upon the hosts of democracy and bury them in gloom forever. A fair shining day is already lighting up the sky, the choral voices of heaven must sing hymn of victory and democracy must win this old earth complete as her loyal possession. For the blood of our heroic dead must not be spilled in vain.

"What an appeal is the life and death of Bishop Batterton to the young manhood of Bourbon county to enlist in this war for humanity. Let our citizens uncover their heads and bow lowly as they carry the memory of our illustrious dead hero in their bosoms. And when the war is over and the victory is won let us bring back his body and carry it through these streets where he trudged in days gone and on to our city of the dead, where we shall place a marble slab with this epitaph, 'He Died For Me.' And I should like to place upon his grave, not a wreath, but a scroll, 'I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.' What a glorious privilege to die for one's country! I know of no greater honor that could come to any young man than the privilege of making the supreme gift, for greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. And I am sure that the happiest moment in the life of Bishop Batterton was when his spirit went home to God in sacrifice for his country's flag and his country's honor. 'Oh death where is thy sting, oh grave where is thy victory?' To have had such a son is honor enough for one home; to have reached such distinction is glory enough for one man.

"We commend this bereaved family to the mercies of our loving Father. Oh bereaved souls be comforted, and may the memory of this heroic life be to you both exultation and inspiration. And may you get on the same road that he has traveled that you may come out at the same glory. He will be waiting for you, waiting at the foot of the throne; waiting under the tree of life; waiting on the banks of the river, and one day he will cry out, 'mother is coming, father is coming, sister is coming, brothers are coming—stand back, ye ransomed ones, and let me welcome them home.' And the grief of this afternoon will be swallowed up in the joy of the Heavenly reunion.

"Oh that the name of Bishop Batterton might be one of the watchwords to awake the county of Bourbon to more valiant service. No church or home can monopolize his name now. He belongs to Bourbon county. He lived in it, and loved it, and died for it. And may the story of his life and death thrill every soul in it to heroic service.

"Until the reunion day we say farewell to his departed spirit. We can afford to wait such a grand reunion. He leaves us higher consolation than any dying statement which he might have made in the memory of his blameless and well spent life. Some day a monument will be erected in Bourbon's beautiful capital, perhaps a plain white shaft. And deep cut in its sides will be the name that is dear to you above the names of men, the name of this brave boy who died as he lived, true to his country and true to his God. And not for all the glories of this world would you exchange the heritage he has left you in his soldier's death. To that sacred spot you will send your children and grandchildren to reverence him who has enrolled your name with his heroic sacrifice. And speaking from the shadow of that memory which you honor as you do nothing else on earth, let me say that the cause in which he suffered and for which he gave his life is worthy of the sacrifice of the noblest and the best. And because he belonged to this class he was among the first to answer his country's call.

"Should it ever be our good fortune to behold those elect heroes, Paul and Savourala, and Luther, with all the poets and reformers and philanthropists, perhaps not far from him whose name is above every name, and shall see our valiant hero who gave his life for you and me, but whose name glows with the brightness of the firmament and shines like the stars forever and ever."

PALESTINE AS A JEWISH HOME

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—On the eve of the Jewish New Year, which begins at sundown Friday, Sept. 6, a message from President Wilson expressing his "deep and sincere interest" in the progress of the development of Palestine as the Jewish homeland was made public here Wednesday by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, former President of the Provisional Zionist Committee. The President wrote to Rabbi Wise.

"I have watched with deep and sincere interest the reconstruction work which the Weizmann Commission has down in Palestine at the instance of the British Government and I welcome an opportunity to express the satisfaction I have felt in the progress of the Zionist movement in the United States and in the allied countries since the declaration by Mr. Balfour on behalf of the British Government, of Great Britain's approval of the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and his promise that the British Government would use its best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of that object, with the understanding that nothing would be done to prejudice the civil and religious rights of non-Jewish people in Palestine or the rights and political status enjoyed by the Jews in other countries.

"I think that all Americans will be deeply moved by the report that even in this time of stress the Weizmann Commission has been able to lay the foundation of the Hebrew University at Jerusalem, with the promise that bears of spiritual rebirth."

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, President of the English Zionist Federation and a noted scientist in British Government service, was selected by that government as head of the Zionist Commission to Palestine to make a survey of the Holy Land. This appointment was made after Great Britain had issued its Palestine declaration. The commission includes Zionist representatives from France, Italy and Russia and has received the fullest support of the Zionist organization of America under the leadership of Justice Louis E. Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court and Judge Julian W. Mack of Chicago, President of the Zionist organization of America. The corner-stone of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem was laid on July 24 by Dr. Weizmann and his associates.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION
BOARD MAKE A GOOD SHOWING.

In a report on the Workmen's Compensation Board filed with Governor Stanley, State Inspector and Examiner Nat B. Sewell says that the compensation law has fully justified its passage, that the board has performed good services, and that its business management is worthy of commendation.

The report covers a period beginning April 1, 1916, when the board first began operations under the act of 1916 creating it, and extending to July 1, 1918.

The receipts of the office since its creation amount to $46,052.88 and the expenditures $26,025.28, leaving a balance of $20,027.88 on hand. The receipts accrue from 4 per cent. tax on employers carrying their own insurance, 4 per cent tax on insurance premiums and an annual appropriation of $7,500.

Sixteen persons are on the pay roll of the Workmen's Compensation Board. Of the number nine, including the members of the Board, are employed regularly. The remaining seven are employed at the pleasure of the Board.

During the existence of the Board 26,318 accidents have been reported to the Compensation Board. Of this number, 6,067 were compensation cases and 5,780 of these have been settled. Only 128 cases have been contested, and of this number, only seven have been appealed to the local courts. Of the seven appealed, the Compensation Board has been affirmed by the courts in two cases and the other five have not been passed upon.

HOUSEWIVES RELEASED FROM WHEATLESS PLEDGE.

Housewives throughout the country who patriotically put their homes on a wheatless basis last spring have been released from their pledges to the Food Administration to go absolutely without wheat. This release was merely from the voluntary pledge to go entirely without wheat until the new harvest. Housewives will continue to purchase the required amount of wheat substitute with their wheat flour.

Coming in of the new wheat crop has made it possible for the Nation to go back partially to its old habits of eating. But the uncertainties of war and the necessity for building up a food reserve are incentives to caution, even in the face of a good crop.

As the available supply of wheat diminishes or increases so does the U.S. Food Administration accordingly change its rulings as to the use of wheat flour.

So as to cover every possible ruling that might be made by the Food Administration, a little booklet of Selected Receipts for War Times has been especially prepared for the patriotic housewives of America.

Every recipe has been carefully selected, prepared and tested in a modern experimental bakery and laboratory by a housewife, domestic science expert and food analysis. The recipes range from those calling for wheat to those calling for no wheat flour. No matter what kind of a war recipe you are looking for you can find it in "Selected Recipes for War Times." This splendid little booklet can be had for the asking. Simply write Calumet Baking Powder Company, 4100 Fillmore Street, Chicago, Ill., and it will be sent you postpaid. Save the needed wheat flour—use your substitute flours and help win the war.

For run-down systems, blood diseases, catarrh, indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, rheumatism, female troubles, running sores, piles, and other life-sapping sicknesses there is no remedy that is its equal—no remedy that will give the same satisfactory results. Rev. A. C. Pinckney, of Carbonton, N. C., was a sufferer from severe stomach troubles previous to trying Acid Iron Mineral, but is now in splendid health, and is glad to have us use his name in the hope that the other sufferers will be helped as he has been helped to perfect health.

Sold in 50c and $1.00 bottles, guaranteed free from alcohol, and guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money refunded. You take no chances when you buy this famous mineral remedy. If your dealer cannot supply you, send to Ferrodine Chemical Corp., Roanoke, Va.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Drop Freezone on a touchy corn, then lift that corn off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

WHAT YOUR SUBSCRIPTION MEANS.

When you subscribe to a Liberty Loan you subscribe to the sentiment that the world must be made safe for democracy and subscribe to the fund that is to make the world safe for democracy.

You subscribe to the belief that innocent women and children on un-aimed ships shall not be sent to the bottom of the sea; that women and children and old men shall not be revished and tortured and murdered under the plea of military necessity; that nurses shall not be shot for deeds of mercy, nor hospital ships be sunk without warning, nor hospitals and unfortified cities be bombed or cannonaded with long-range guns.

You subscribe to the doctrine that small nations have the same rights as great and powerful ones; that might is not right, and that Germany shall not force upon the world the dominion of her military masters.

You subscribe, when you subscribe to a Liberty Loan, to the belief that America entered this war for a just and noble cause; that our soldiers in France and our sailors on the sea are fighting for right and justice.

And you subscribe to the American sentiment that they must and shall be powerful, efficient, and victorious.

House?

The Branch House is the place in the packing organization where what the packing plant does for you is put where you can use it.

Both are the natural result of growth and development in the living things they belong to.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are located in distributing centers all over the country. They are fitted out with refrigerating equipment to keep meat cool, sweet and fresh.

Each one is in personal charge of a man who believes in what Swift & Company is doing for people and wants to help do it.

They are directed by men who have spent years learning how to get better meat cheaper to the places where it is needed.

Meat is shipped to the branch houses direct from the packing plants in Swift & Company's refrigerator cars, in such quantities that it can be disposed of while fresh and sweet.

Your meat dealer comes here to buy your meat for you—unless someone else can treat him better than we can.

So you need the branch house in order to live well; and the branch house and the packing plant need each other, in order to be useful to you.

SELL WAR SAVINGS STAMPS NOW

It may have been a mere coincidence, but the American Army in France began its victorious advance just about the time that the American Army of thrift at home began to give real proof that it was standing behind the boys over there.

We knew all the time that our boys could fight. Now the Germans know it.

We have known all the time that the American people at home, when they got right down to it, would go to any length, make any sacrifice, to bring about complete victory. Now is the time to let the Germans know it.

It will be two months before the next Liberty Loan. During that time no direct appeal to the public for funds is being made by the Government.

Let's give the Government a real income from War Savings Stamps for the next two months. Let's buy the whole issue in that time, and clear the decks for the next loan.

Government receipts in July were more than $6,000,000 a day from the sale of stamps. They should be doubled.

All over the country pledges were signed on July 28. Let's fulfill those pledges now. Kentucky should take the lead. County Chairmen should realize that their work was not completed when the pledges were signed, but was only fairly begun.

Utilize August and September in following up the pledges. Do it by school districts. Let every signer know his record of performance is being watched.

See that every pledge is fulfilled, and then see that it is doubled if possible.

Kentucky must invest in War Savings Stamps at the rate of $9,000,000 a month for the remainder of the year.

(Gordon Snow, in the Atlantic)

A frail little chap he was, so young and boyish for all his one-and-twenty years. There was that about him which spoke of knickerbockers and romping childhood laid aside but yesterday. I did not know Joe. He had passed through the mill of the draft as one of many; but we met for a brief sixty seconds on fine spring night at the station, just as the train was taking him away; and while memory lives, I shall remember Joe.

He looked down at me from a car window, and as he said good-bye there was a twinkle in his eye as if he was amused that I did not know him.

"Say good-bye to Mary Jane for me," he called as the train moved out.

"Who are you?" I cried, springing alongside the moving car.

"Ha!" he laughed. "I'm the grocer's boy. Every day I came to your back door. Mary Jane knows me and so does the missus. Say good-bye to both of them for me."

The train clicked away into the night. I turned back, swallowing a lump. It so befalls that the light of my household is a little 2-year-old and her name is Mary Jane.

Judging by Amsterdam newspaper comment, the Allied victory certainly has "beat the Dutch."

Some men imagine that striving for the best means trying to get the better of some other fellow.

THE PATROL SYSTEM OF ROAD MAINTENANCE.

TOBACCO'S HELP TO HUMANITY

(Cincinnati Enquirer)

Although the patrol system of maintenance has been in vogue in all the older countries for decades and been adopted by many States in our own country, recommended by all highway engineers, advocated in all leading road magazines, favored by most leading citizens, strongly endorsed by all State Highway Departments, less than half dozen counties in Kentucky have adopted it. What is the reason?

Whenever and wherever it has been tried, it has never been a failure, the results accomplished being wonderful and the expense incurred being a minimum.

The system has long since passed the experimental stage and should there be any county officials who doubt its practicability, they can easily ascertain the facts by a little correspondence.

Let us seek information instead of approval of antiquated methods and the verdict must be the patrol system for every main traveled road in Kentucky.

MULES WILL MAKE NEW CLASS AT FAIR.

A new feature at the sixteenth annual Kentucky State Fair to be held in Louisville the week of September 9-14, will be the mule stake which carries the unprecedented premium of $1,000. No sum approaching this amount has ever been offered in a like stake in Kentucky and mule owners throughout the Commonwealth are deeply interested in the event.

The premium money is divided into five sums, the first prize be ing 40 per cent. of the stake, the sec ond 25 per cent., the third 15 per cent. and the fourth and fifth each

10 per cent. The nominations in this stake closed July 1, and the entries were named September 1. Every in ication points to a record-breaking struggle for prizes in this ring and it is claimed that some of the greatest mule flesh in the State will be on hand to compete for the above listed classe.

YOUTHS BETWEEN 18 AND 21 TO BE MOBILIZED OCT. 1.

Members of the Students' Army

Training Corps, consisting of youths between the ages of 18 and 21, will be mobilized October 1 at more than 300 colleges selected for that purpose by the War Department, according to details of the plan announced.

The members of the Students' Training Corps will be "soldiers on active duty," a statement issued by the War Department says. Upon their induction into service their subsistence, quarters, clothing and tuition will be provided by the Government and the student-soldiers will receive the pay of privates in the army.

High school graduates will be eligible to the collegiate training division of the corps and grammar school graduates may enter the vocational section. As the students show ability they will be transferred to new divisions and those showing special qualifications will be sent to officers' training schools. Others will be assigned to noncommissioned officers' schools.

The War Department, in its statemen, advises youths now ready for college entrance or already enrolled in college to adhere to their plans and obtain voluntary induction into the corps.

"GREAT GOD," SAID THE WOOD COCK, THEN FLEW!

"Watermelons! Red! Ripe! Home-grown watermelons! Fifteen cents!" Residents of Brazil, Indiana, at first did not believe their ears. They looked out, saw a farmer with a wagonload of melons, and then heard him repeat the 15 cents. They "rushed" the wagon. The farmer sold his load immediately, many persons buying several melons. Afterward he said he had not read the prices of melons, and had not heard that they were retailing as high as $1 apiece. He said he figured, however, after he had sold them so cheaply that the time he saved in disposing of his entire load in about one-quarter of an hour, was worth something to him. However, he subscribed for a newspaper before leaving town.
